

Unique to you

You have a sense of tradition, but you also want to have a day that provides you with exactly what you are looking for.

For weddings and renewal of vows, I can help you create a beautiful ceremony.

For example, you may have married abroad, but not all your family and friends were able to attend. I can help you design & create a unique and special event, at a time and place that is best for you.

You are unique, you have the right to expect a special occasion. Also remember you do not have to have your Celebrant led wedding ceremony in a licensed venue.

Celebrants are independent and only ever want to provide you with the type of ceremony you truly deserve and desire.

As I said, it is unique to you.

My name is Nuala Geary, I am a Celebrant and a member of the Fellowship of Professional Celebrants. I work primarily in the regions of Sussex, Kent and London. In my role as celebrant, I write and conduct weddings, renewal of vows, baby namings and funerals for those seeking alternative ceremonies to the more traditional approach. I also can provide after dinner or ceremony speaking services for any special event.

Celebrants are increasingly popular and provide a beautiful and respectful alternative to the more traditional event, whilst still embracing elements that are meaningful. Celebrant led ceremonies do not mean there is disrespect for the traditional values of faith-based services, but more people are seeking ceremonies that more appropriately reflect their beliefs, values and lifestyle.

You want to get married in a forest, on a beach, in a hotel or a simple wedding ceremony in your garden, I can help you make your dream a reality.

It's important to note that the legalities of a marriage do need to be covered by a registrar. Whilst the legal signing of a marriage is significant, it may not define the ceremony you wish to have, where you wish to have it, and how. Being supported by a Celebrant, you have more flexibility and choice, which ensures that every aspect of your ceremony is perfect. It's about you and only you – so let me help you create and deliver the perfect occasion. Visit my website to find out more, or call me for an informal discussion. It's as simple as that.

New beginnings

Whilst we know that all new born children have to be officially registered at the Registry Office, you do not have to christen your child in a church unless you wish to follow the traditional Christian or faith-based route.

As with other ceremonies, you can create your own baby or child naming ceremony. Many families also like to seek a formal way of welcoming and celebrating into their family adopted or stepchildren.

More people are seeking celebration events to embrace changes to their families. Baby naming can mean different things, but ultimately it is about recognising and celebrating a new beginning.

A Celebrant is just what you need to help you have the type of ceremony you truly desire. Celebrations are tailor-made and for weddings, you just need to have the brief formalities with the Registry Office and then I can help you create the ceremony you want, in the location of your choice.
